MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS AND ANALYSIS REPORT

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

The jute industry in India witnessed a robust performance during the FY 2023-24, supported by sustained demand in both domestic and global markets. The eco-friendly nature of jute, coupled with increasing environmental awareness, has fueled the demand for jute products globally.

During the year under review, our company achieved significant growth in both income and profit after taxes, reflecting our strong position within the industry and our ability to capitalize on emerging opportunities. The global demand for jute continued to rise, driven by a shift towards sustainable packaging solutions and the versatility of jute in various applications. This favorable industry environment has enabled us to enhance our production capacities and optimize our operational efficiencies, further strengthening our market presence.

Looking ahead, the jute industry is expected to maintain its growth trajectory, with ongoing government support for the sector and increasing consumer preference for sustainable products.

OVERVIEW OF THE COMPANY:

The Company is into Jute and Agro trading, however the company did not enter into exports of Jute bags and accessories this fiscal year. However, due to high demand for jute and agro products worldwide, the company is of the view that there will be significant exports in the coming years. It has also spread hands in metal handicrafts etc along with raw jute and merchandise, import, export of metal handicrafts, merchandise etc.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE:

Your Company could not declared a dividend of Rs. 0.20/- per equity shares to the shareholders of the company for the Financial Year ended 31st March 2024. The management is of the opinion that in coming years the company would continue to declare strong financials.

BUSINESS STRATEGY:

To meet the rising global demand, we strategically increased our production capacity, ensuring timely delivery and maintaining the quality of our jute products. This expansion was complemented by investments in advanced technology to improve operational efficiency.

We focused on expanding our footprint in existing markets while exploring new geographical regions with untapped potential. Our efforts were directed towards establishing strong distribution networks and strategic partnerships to enhance our market reach.

RISK AND CONCERNS:

The availability and cost of raw jute are subject to seasonal variations and climatic conditions, which can lead to price volatility. Any significant increase in raw material costs may impact the profitability of jute manufacturers.

The industry is heavily regulated, with government policies influencing both production and pricing. Any adverse changes in regulations, including export restrictions or increased environmental compliance costs, could pose challenges to the industry.

With the rising global demand for sustainable materials, the jute industry faces competition from other natural fibers and synthetic alternatives. The industry must continuously innovate and improve to maintain its competitive edge.

BUSINESS SEGMENT:

The Company is presently into Single Business Segment.

OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS:

Opportunities:

- ❖ As environmental concerns continue to rise, there is a growing global shift towards sustainable and biodegradable materials. This trend presents a significant opportunity for the jute industry to expand its market share, especially in sectors like packaging, textiles, and home furnishings.
- ❖ The Indian government's continued support for the jute industry, including various subsidies and promotional schemes, provides a favorable environment for growth. Additionally, policies promoting the use of jute bags over plastic alternatives create new opportunities for the industry.
- ❖ There is a growing demand for innovative jute products that go beyond traditional uses. By focusing on research and development, companies can tap into new market segments, such as fashion accessories, composites, and high-end consumer goods.
- ❖ With increasing awareness about the environmental benefits of jute, there is potential to expand into new international markets. Penetrating untapped regions could lead to substantial growth in exports.

The major threats are:

- ❖ Despite the advantages of jute, it faces stiff competition from synthetic alternatives and other natural fibers that may offer lower costs or different functional properties. This competition could limit the industry's market share.
- ❖ The price of raw jute is subject to fluctuations due to various factors, including weather conditions, agricultural practices, and market demand. Significant price increases can strain margins and affect profitability.
- ❖ The jute industry is subject to various regulatory standards and environmental norms. Stricter regulations or changes in compliance requirements could increase operational costs and impact profitability.
- ❖ Geopolitical tensions, logistical challenges, or natural disasters nowadays disrupt the supply chain, leading to delays and increased costs. The industry must navigate these uncertainties to ensure consistent supply and delivery.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM:

Our internal control system incorporates a thorough risk management process that identifies, assesses, and mitigates risks across all areas of the business, including procurement, production, and sales. This is particularly crucial given the price volatility of raw jute and the global demand fluctuations.

We have implemented automated financial controls to ensure accurate and timely financial reporting. These controls are supported by advanced ERP systems that facilitate real-time monitoring of transactions and compliance with accounting standards.

Internal audits are conducted regularly to assess the effectiveness of our operations and to identify areas for improvement. This includes audits of our production processes, inventory management, and supply chain operations, ensuring that we maintain high levels of efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

3.3 Significant accounting Judgements, estimate, assumptions

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has made the following key estimates, assumptions and judgements, which have significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements.

a) Income Taxes

Management judgement is required for the calculation of provision for income taxes and deferred tax assets and liabilities. The factors used in estimates may differ from actual outcome which could lead to significant adjustment to the amounts reported in the standalone financial statements.

b) Contingencies

Management judgement is required for estimating the possible outflow of resources, if any, in respect of contingencies/claim/litigations against the Company as it is not possible to predict the outcome of pending matters with accuracy.

c) Defined Benefit Plans

The cost of the employment benefits such as gratuity and leave obligation are determined using actual valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumption as may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increase and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate for plans operated in India, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds.

d) Insurance Claim

Insurance and other claims raised by the Company are accounted for when received owing to uncertainties involved.

3.5 Reclassification of financial assets and liabilities

The company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no classification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments; a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The company's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the company's operations. Such changes are evident to the external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the company reclassifies the assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period. Following the changes in business model, the company does not restate any previously recognized gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

- i. The company recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five step model as set out in Ind AS 115:

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract: For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, the Company allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation.

Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the Company satisfies a performance obligation.

ii. Interest Income

g) Inventories

The cost is calculated on First in First Out (FIFO) method except work in progress which is valued at raw material cost plus conversion costs depending upon the stages of completion. Cost comprises expenditure incurred in the normal course of business in bringing such inventories to its present location and condition and includes, where applicable, appropriate overheads based on normal level of activity. i) Lease

The Company evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of IND AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgement. The Company uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate.

The company determines the lease term as the non- cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extended the lease if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminated the lease if the company is reasonably certain to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the company to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Company revises the lease term if there is a change in the non- cancellable period of a lease.

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specified to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

Company as a lessee

The Company accounts for such lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non- lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component based on the relative stand- alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand- alone price of the non- lease components.

The Company recognizes right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right of use assets is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any re- measurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset are depreciated using the straight line method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant & equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indicate loss, if any, is recognized in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discontinued using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company can use incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar Characteristics, the Company, on a lease-by-lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specified the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease. The lease liability is subsequently re- measured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and re-measuring the carrying amount to reflect any re-assessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Company recognizes the amount of the re- measurement of lease liability due to modification as on adjustment to the right-of-use asset and Statement of Profit & Loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the

Company as a lessor

At the inception of the lease the company classifies each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease. The Company recognizes lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight line basis over the lease term. In case of a finance lease, finance income is recognized over the lease term based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of the return on the lessor's net investment in the lease. When the company is an intermediate lessor it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sub lease separately. It assesses the lease classification of a sub- lease with reference to the right of use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset. If a head lease is a short term lease to which the Company applies the exemption described above, then it classifies the sub-lease as an operating lease.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 leases to short term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying assets is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognized as an expenses on a straight- line basis over the lease term.

In determining the fair value of its financial instruments, the company use various method and assumption that are based on market conditions and risks existing at each reporting date. The methods used to determine the fair value includes discounted Cash Flow analysis, available quoted market price and dealer quotes and valuation report etc. the method of assessing fair value results in general approximation of value and such value may never actually be realized.

Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the assets or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

When measuring the fair value of an asset or liability, the company uses observable market data as far as possible. If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

4. Changes in Accounting Standard and recent accounting pronouncements (New Accounting Standards issued but not effective):

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23rd 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 1st 2022, as below:

Ind AS 103- Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 16- Proceeds Before Intended Use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant & equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognize such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The company does not expect the amendment to have any impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its financial statements.

Ind AS 37- Onerous Contracts- Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that related directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification and the Company does not expect The amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 109- Annual Improvement to Ind AS (2021)
